ISAAC COYLE SHOT TO DEATH BY ROBBERS

Country Merchant Called To Door and Killed—Tragedy Disclosed By Boys Playing

News came from Rockcastle county today that a man named Cornett had confessed to the murder of Isaac W. Coyle last Thursday night about 11 o'clock at the home of the latter three miles from Big Hill, Madison county. "Uncle Ike," as he was called, was called to his door, shot to death and robbed of between $600 and $700. News of his murder did not become known for almost 36 hours afterward. Boys playing hide and seek crawled under the floor of his house. One noticed blood dripping through a crack in the flooring above him. An investigation showed Mr. Coyle lying dead on the floor. A pillow had been placed under his head and a blanket thrown over him. Blankets had been hung in front of the windows at the house so that passersby might not see the gruesome picture within.

The news that came from Mt. Vernon said that three men had been arrested for the crime after a lengthy investigation. Their names were said to be McQueen, Cornett and Bowman, so Wm. Coyle, of Indianapolis, who had just attended his brother's funeral, said here in Richmond today.

He came by here accompanied by his sister, Mrs. David Grady, and Miss Florence Coyle, daughter of the dead man. His wife and three sons survive beside her, all living in Indianapolis. They are Nathan, Curtis and Isaac Coyle, Jr.

The murdered man conducted a small country store near Big Hill on the Rockcastle side of the line. He was a native of Madison county, however, and was well known all over the Beren section and here as a quiet, law abiding citizen, well esteemed by all who knew him. Neighbors said they heard a shot about 11 o'clock on Thursday night but thought nothing of it. Mr. Coyle was alone at his home at the time, his family being in Indianapolis.

HELD OVER FOR BEATING HIS BABY

Charged with beating his three months old daughter with his open hand and throwing her several feet to a bed, Max Plymaster, of Four Mile avenue, was held over to the grand jury under $500 bond by Judge G. Murray Smith in police court Monday night. Mrs. Challas testified to the cruelty of Plymaster toward the baby when it cried with colic. Plymaster went to jail in default of bond.

George Hopper was given $50 fine and 30 days in jail on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. As two policemen started out of the courtroom with him, he jerked away and it required four men to take him. He put up a hard fight and cursed and threatened to kill them. Arriving at the jail he smashed Jailer Chas. Rogers' glasses off his face and it took half a dozen officers to handle him and put him in a cell. He will be tried again Friday night on a breach of the peace charge, fighting the officers, etc.

A young girl who was charged with having taken a small amount from a store here in town, was acquitted of the charge by Judge Smith.

Tractor Day Thursday

The Richmond Motor Company is announcing a big program on Thursday for the benefit of the farmers of the community. It will be Tractor Day when experts will be here and a moving picture shown, illustrating the varied possibilities of the Fordson. The work which can be done more economically in both time and money, by the use of this great farmers' machine, than in any other way, will be shown from every aspect. The demonstration will undoubtedly prove very popular with the farmers of Madison.

BIRMINGHAM'S BEST

Each year the News of Birmingham, Ala., presents a $500 silver cup to the person who has rendered the most distinguished, unselfish service to the city during the year. For 1921 it has been awarded to R. S. Munger, here shown, for his benefactions to the Birmingham Southern college, Howard college, the Y. M. C. A. and other institutions.

STORM DESTROYS TWO S. C. TOWNS

(By Associated Press)
Augusta, Ga., Mar. 7.—Langley and Warrenville, two South Carolina towns 10 and 12 miles from here, respectively, were reported destroyed by storm today. Several persons are reported killed at Langley. Wire communication with the town is cut off.

At Warrenville, South Carolina, six persons were killed, according to a message from a telephone lineman who said he cut in on a broken wire to send it.

ESTILL MAY SOON VOTE ON ROAD BONDS

Reports received here are that petitions already have been circulated and an election will probably be called in the very near future on a $270,000 road bond issue in Estill county.

It is understood that five roads radiating from Irvine to the county lines of Lee, Jackson, Madison Clark and Powell counties, are under the present plans. The total mileage of the proposed work total between 55 and 60 miles.

A considerable fund has accrued from the oil tax, from which Estill county benefits extensively, and from the 20 cent road tax, so that it is believed that it will not take care of the cost of the proposed roads and it will be necessary to vote an additional tax. The proposed road construction will give a more direct route between Irvine and Richmond than that now used.

WESTERN KENTUCKY MINERS WON'T STRIKE

Three Counties Plan To Be Mighty Busy in Event Other Coal Miners Go Out

(By Associated Press)
Madisonville, Ky., Mar. 7.—Union officials today announced their policy toward International District 23 to continue at work, regardless of the result of the strike vote of the soft coal miners. It is unofficially announced that the miners are in agreement largely due to a contract with the operators which does not expire until 1923. The operators see great activity in three counties of this field in the event of a strike in other fields is ordered.

Pittsburgh Coal Men To Talk To Miners

(By Associated Press)
Pittsburgh, Mar. 7.—Coal operators of the Pittsburgh district the most important bituminous field in the country, will meet their miners, "union or non-union," to discuss a working scale. W. K. Fields, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, said in a statement today.

SERIOUS BLAZE NARROWLY AVERTED

The handsome new bungalow of F. C. Gentry on South Second street had a close call from serious damage by fire Tuesday morning. Mrs. Gentry was doing some pressing with an electric iron, when the door bell rang. She went to answer it without shutting off the current. As she was down stairs longer than anticipated, the clothes caught fire, and set a rattan table lamp on fire, too. The blaze then spread to the rug, chair table and other furniture. Luckily, Mr. Gentry was at home and he and his wife fought the threatened conflagration so hard they didn't stop to take time to phone for the fire department. With liberal use of water and smothering the blaze with rugs it was extinguished, but not until considerable damage had been done to the room and its furnishings.

YOUNG GIRL DIES WHILE VISITING HERE

One of the saddest deaths that has taken place in this community for some time was that of Miss Pearl Creech, the 22-year old daughter of Rev. E. G. Creech and Mrs. Creech, of Wilfiba, Lee county, who died late Monday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. James Bowman, on the Irvine road. Miss Creech arrived ten days ago for a visit and was stricken with double pneumonia soon after her arrival. All that loving hands and hearts could do proved of no avail and the bright spirit fled to dwell with God who gave it. She was a beautiful character and was beloved by a large circle of relatives and friends. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved parents and the stricken aunt, who loved her as a daughter. Surviving her are her parents, several brothers and sisters. The remains will be taken to Lee county for interment.

A peculiarly sad feature of the young girl's death was the fact that her parents were unable to reach her bedside before her spirit had taken its flight. When she became desperately ill an effort was made to notify them, but as they lived six miles from the railroad, they did not get word in time to get here in time to see her before she passed away.

YOUNGSTER DIES OF PARALYTIC STROKE

Mr. and Mrs. James Burton of East Main street, have the deepest sympathy of their friends in the death of their nine year old son, William, who died very suddenly Monday night at 1 o'clock, having had a stroke of paralysis. The death is a great blow to the grief stricken parents, as the child was playing on the street during the afternoon, seemingly in his usual health. Besides the parents, the child is survived by one sister and one brother. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

AMMONIA BANDIT DRESSES AS WOMAN

(By Associated Press)
Pittsburgh, Mar. 7.—Dressed as a woman and armed with a water toy pistol charged with ammonia, a bandit today fired at a bank messenger on a busy street as the messenger, carrying $15,000, stepped from a street car. Scores of passersby saw the struggle but thought it a street fight. The messenger, although blinded by ammonia, grappled with his assailant until a policeman arrested him. The bandit gave the name of Joseph Lindsay.

Distributing Mexican Quail

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 6.—The State Fish and Game Commission is now distributing the first 6,000 of this year's allotment of Mexican quail. The quail are imported from Mexico and distributed to farms where farmers will help to protect them while they multiply. This was done last year and it was said that the work was successful.

When Will This Stop?

(By Associated Press)
New York, Mar. 7.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today against Charles H. Clarkson and Company, stock brokers. Their liabilities are estimated at $145,000 with assets of $70,000.

NORMAL SCHOOL GETS $27,000 ADDITIONAL

After House Restores $120,000 Lopped Off State University—Day In Legislature

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 7.—A victory for the University of Kentucky, which restored $120,000 of the $160,000 sheared from its appropriation by the budget commission report; a personal appeal to the senate by Speaker James E. Thompson, of the House of Representatives, for enactment of his taxation measure, and a proposition from Gov. Morrow, advanced as a final effort to save the road bonds as a live issue at the polls next fall, were Monday's legislative developments.

Representative Arch L. Hamilton and Harry Miller, of Fayette county, led the fight to save the university allotment. Mr. Hamilton, from his lengthy experience and wide influence and acquaintance in the House, was an ideal champion of the cause of education, and he conducted the defense with skill and acumen, receding from some minor amendments in order to win his two main points, which were an increase of $75,000 in the appropriation proper, and an item of $45,000 to pay off an indebtedness which has been hanging over the university for about ten years, and which had not been taken care of by former sessions.

The item was occasioned by the failure of one general assembly to make the proper provision for the upkeep of the institution and the deficit occasioned thereby had been met by a public subscription of a loan by Lexington citizens.

Mr. Hamilton was seconded by Mr. Miller in handling the matter.

W. P. Wallen, Joseph F. Bosworth, A. W. Dorsey and Mrs. Mary Eliot Flanery were among others who spoke in favor of the increase for the university.

Following the university's success, Representatives Strange and Park obtained an additional $27,000 for each of the two present State Normal schools, one at Bowling Green and the other at Richmond.

"Despite the fact that the University of Kentucky is cut at least $160,000, and possibly $250,000, by this budget measure," declared Mr. Hamilton, "we have 372 more students than last year. More than 400 girls have been turned away from the institution because of lack of facilities. The new budget does nothing for the engineering equipment, mentioned in the previous law."

"The $150,000 dormitory authorized by the preceding legislature is being used exclusively for former service men."

Harry Miller said: "We have been discussing political matters. Let's lay that aside, and see if we can't co-operate together to do something for Kentucky."

Mrs. Flanery said the University of Virginia is a wonderful institution, because it is maintained by the "Old Dominion." She added that Michigan and Ohio have great state universities. "Why not give Kentucky a chance to reach the same height?" she asked.

The main appropriation amendment carried, 47 to 33, and the one to pay off the debt of $45,000 by 39 to 26. The Senate tabled the county superintendent direct election bill by a vote of 18 to 17. It was tied in the Senate vote, Lieut. Gov. Ballard casting the deciding ballot, which killed the bill.

When the Senate adjourned shortly before six o'clock, Speaker Thompson had been heard for more than two hours, discussing different phases of his tax bill and some amendments which he proposes shall be incorporated in the upper branch. The senate will resume consideration of the tax measure Tuesday, while the House will take up the budget bill for final disposition.

Prisoners Go To Pen

Sheriff Elmer Deatherage took eight prisoners, convicted at the recent term of circuit court, to the penitentiary at Frankfort Tuesday. They were Jarley Jones, Alonzo Harris, Cheneault Benton, Dennis Rogers, Dillard and Dewey Todd, colored, Irvine Hendricks and Lawrence Marcum.

LOTS OF STOCK TRADES COURT DAY

There was lots of trading a Richmond Monday, county court day. Both stock yards were crowded and trading was brisk. About 5,000 cattle were on hand. Prices on stock ranged from $8 on down according to quality. There wasn't much of real quality here, though. About 600 hogs were reported and there was good demand for them from $10.75 on down. About 300 sheep sold from $5 to $7.50 a head.

The horse and mule market was very active, about 300 or 400 being offered by the various traders.

Luke B. Hansbrough, of Shelbyville, brought over 17 mules and took back four or several horses with him. His mules sold from $72 to $206 a head, the high figure being for a nice mare mule Mr. Hansbrough "swapped" a lot of mules for horses and "boot." He said that the market here seems a little dull and declared business is much brisker in his county of Shelby at present than it appears here. Mr. Hansbrough reported that he sold a pair of hearse horses the other day to Joe Huston, of Bloomfield, Nelson county, for $400. Hansbrough is a big horse and mule buyer and trader. He said he was much impressed with Richmond and will be back here again soon with more animals.

Sandlin To Be Tried In Owsley

Robert Sandlin, who has been held in the Fayette county jail for several months at the request of Owsley county authorities, was returned to Booneville Monday to be tried for the murder of Bessie Allen, 16, on Upper Buffalo Creek, in that county, in June, 1920. Two other men already have been convicted and given prison sentences for alleged complicity in the crime. The court of appeals, however, reversed the verdict of the Owsley circuit court in these cases.

CRACK FOOT BALL PLAYER A POET

"Bill" Crutcher Submits Clever Verse, But Didn't Quite Get Answer—The Others

Some mighty clever and attractive "answers" were sent in to the Daily Register's "Munificent Gift" puzzle. Miss Maude Gibson, art teacher at Eastern, sent a handsomely painted Arch. One of the best answers was a poem written by that talented young high school pupil, and crack football player, William Crutcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Crutcher. Several other excellent ones were received. Beginning with Mr. Crutcher's poem, all that are possible of reproduction here, are as follows:

Saturday night was dark and dreary and wet.
So down by the fire Dad made me set.
"You shan't go out, son, on this bad night."
I was awful sore, but I said, All right.

I was solemnly thinking of what I could do.
When there came to my ears a voice.
I well knew, I was sure,
I ran to the door and opened it wide.
So Watson could throw the "Daily" inside.

No more sad moments, for I saw at a glance.
There had knocked at my door a wonderful chance.
Ten dollars in gold to be given away!
By the Daily Register without much delay.

When a fellow's in school with no chance to work,
You don't know how he feels for he's always broke.
So you bet I got busy without much delay.
To read what the Register had to say.

I read that a couple had come to town
To visit their uncle and to "look around."
If course, they stopped at the Glyn.
don Hotel.

That couple wouldn't if they wished to be swell.
Now that ride in the Dodge—I'm sure
It was fine!

See, how I wish that car could be mine!
If I owned that car—but I can't fully explain.
For fear you might think I am not quite sane.

From reading the story, you can see, no doubt,
That without that Dodge Car they couldn't have gotten about.
But they did get around and covered much ground.
And the farther they went, the more pleasure they found.

So I'm working hard this cold damp night
To win ten dollars to give Mr. White.
I'll ask him to take it and put it away.
And then I'll add to it, day by day.

Then some fine morning 'twill be voiced from afar
That poor old Bill Crutcher has bought a Dodge Car.
I'll take that Dodge Car and collect all the boys—
And away we will go to taste of life's joys.

We will all play around in some distant town
Till we get good and ready to go set—
the down—
Then we'll all drive in from our wild goose chase
With the single "agreement—Our town's the best place."

We will then have arrived at the age where we're ready,
To settle right down and be good and steady—
Like my Dad and and your Dad and all those old boys
Who have almost forgotten they ever had joys.

We're most ready to marry, so we're looking about
We don't need things yet, but we want to find out—
So we read the Register day by day
For fear we might miss what it has to say.

There's a moral attached, you should heed it well.
For you're sure to meet it in order to sell.
Use your home paper, and use it well,
When you want to buy and when you want to sell.

And now, Mr. Sautley, my rhyme's about done
I may not win your prize, but I've had great fun.
The next Saturday night when it's rainy and cold
Please offer again ten dollars in gold!

I've worked on your puzzle 'till now it is ONE.
The MORE I have worked, the LESS I have done.
Dad says I am crazy, I must put out that light
I guess I will mind him, so I bid you, good-night.

BILL CRUTCHER.
The Three words are—
ONE—MORE—LESS.

London reports say Ambassador George Harvey may return to the U. S. A. and run for president. Probably hasn't gotten over the effects of the non-Volstead banquet that they talked openly about in congress the other day.

More Praise for the Sheriff

Editor Marshall Vaughn, of the Berea Citizen, has some good things to say of the fine work of Sheriff Elmer Deatherage and gives a very timely warning to moonshiners, bootleggers and other law breakers. He says: Madison county is to be congratulated upon having a fearless and an aggressive sheriff. For the last few years it has been the custom of the high sheriff of the county to treat his position as an office job and send substitutes out to do the hard work.

Mr. Deatherage has chosen the other thing. He has inaugurated a policy of doing himself whatever he would ask anyone else to do. He does not hesitate to don his overshoes and leggings, ride on horseback to the brink of the hollow, and scramble down the banks and up the ravine on foot to where the moonshine still is quietly smoking.

Practically every day of the circuit court for the last two weeks has been filled with trials of moonshiners, bootleggers and other "breachers" of the peace that have been brought before the court of justice by Mr. Deatherage and his deputies. One man said "A new broom sweeps clean." Another man said, "He ought to have gotten the moonshiner himself in one big raid he made." Mr. Deatherage is himself disappointed that he was not able to pull in some very important moonshiners in one of his recent raids. But in spite of his precautions and wholesale slaughter of the stills some of them escaped, only to be apprehended later.

Mr. Moonshiner, your doom is sealed. We have a fearless judge on the bench at Richmond, a fearless sheriff riding the roads, and law-abiding, God fearing juries ready to sit on your case. Put up or you will get shut up.

Romance Still Lingers in Centenarian's Hearts

A romance of centenarians that had its beginning many years ago was recalled recently when the Rev. Peter McNab, of New York city, celebrated his one hundredth birthday. In early life Mr. McNab became engaged to Miss Charlotte Walker, of Caledonia, N. Y., who will be 100 years old next April. Soon after his ordination in the United Presbyterian church, Mr. McNab was taken ill and confined to his bed for thirty years. Mr. McNab and Miss Walker were never married, but up to the time he became too feeble to walk he was a daily caller at the Walker home, and now he dispatches a note to Miss Walker each day.

ACCIDENTS LAID TO U. S. PEP

Enormous Increase in Berlin Street Mishaps Shown Since Before War.

Berlin.—The fact that street accidents in Berlin have increased 600 per cent since 1913 has led to the suggestion that one of the causes may be the apparent effort to put American "pep" into the city's everyday life. One newspaper writer asserts Berliners have become too busy to greet friends in passing, that the spirit of haste is disturbing the general routine, and that the citizens on the whole are growing nervous. He deprecates "the attempt to make Berlin street life look like Forty-second street and Broadway."

Official reports say most of the accidents are due to speeding automobiles and careless pedestrians, "who step off the sidewalks and walk the streets in every direction without once looking to see if they are in the way of vehicular traffic."

There is no ordinance regulating pedestrian traffic. Even at the more crowded intersections the people cross the streets at will, taking their chances with the automobiles, street cars, omnibuses, trucks and horse cars. There are no traffic policemen in the German metropolis, but it has been decided to establish such force. Meantime the "security police" are doing this duty.

The bicycle habit is very popular with all classes, and particularly with the police, who ride in squad formation. It is not uncommon to see a man rigged out in top hat and evening clothes riding his "bike" to the theater.

BLIND WOMAN IS WONDER

Twelve years ago Mrs. M. S. Acker of Youngstown, O., became totally blind. When the news first came to her she wept and stormed at the injustice of fate. "Then," she says, "one day I had a great vision—I realized that God would take care of me, even though blind. I tried my energies and concentrated on my work."

Today this blind woman does all her own housework and her shopping. She not only cuts and stitches her own clothing and that of her children, but also makes all of Mr. Acker's shirts. She learned typewriting in two lessons and mastered the blind system of reading in two weeks. So now she reads the magazines, keeping in touch with the world's affairs, is a member of church societies and women's clubs and attends church regularly.

Wage Is Less Than Soap Cake.

London.—Monthly salary of a nurse in the municipal hospital in Moscow is less than the cost of a cake of soap in that city. This striking example of the disproportion between wages and the cost of living in the Russian capital is disclosed in a report just made by a special commission sent to Russia by the health committee of the League of Nations.

A cake of soap in Moscow costs 8,500 rubles and nurses in the city hospital are paid 5,000 rubles a month.

Clean Your Rugs Clean at Home

Save yourself the cost and inconvenience of having your rugs taken up and cleaned twice a year. Save the embarrassment of allowing them to remain dim and clogged with dirt between times.

Get a Hoover and enjoy the pride of "lovely, clean rugs the year around. Dirt gets into your rugs every day. Much of it sifts into their depths to cling and stay, immune to hand-sweeping. Rapidly it accumulates. Germs swarm in it and menace health. Shoes press the soft rug nap upon this dirt, composed largely of sharp grit. The nap is thus ground off. Your rugs grow threadbare, years too soon.

The Hoover electrically beats out all such germ-laden, nap-destroying dirt from rug depths. By thus safeguarding health and preserving your rugs from wear, over and over it pays for itself.

In addition, the Hoover electrically sweeps up stubbornest litter, erects crushed nap, freshens colors and powerfully cleans by air—all in one easy, rapid, dustless operation.

Have an immediate free demonstration in your home of The Hoover and its air-cleaning attachments. The Hoover, backed by the Guarantee Bond of the oldest and largest makers of electric cleaners, is obtainable in four sizes, all moderately priced, on easy terms. Phone us for free demonstration.

IN THE MOVIES

History Repeats Itself

In "Last of Mohicans"

Early American history is represented on the screen in Maurice Tourneur's new special film, "The Last of the Mohicans," at local theatres Wednesday. The actual event repeated was the horrible massacre of Fort William Henry, New York, which took place August 10th, 1757. Strangely enough Tourneur filmed the identical scenes on the 10 of August, 1920, and for a time it looked as if the calendar had returned to its colonial days, so realistic was the big scene. It was a bloody affair but only one gallon of glycerine blood was spilled over the ground at the Tourneur studio. Montcalm, the French general, set out from Canada with savages as his allies, determined to capture the British forts. The general, Col. Munro, and thousands of soldiers and Indians lived again in the film scenes. This special picture comes with an all-star cast headed by such well known players as Wallace Beery, Albert Roscoe, Joseph Singleton, Barbara Bedford, Lillian Hall and Henry Woodward, with an array of talent that is capable of carrying a picture unaided.

GIVE A BABY SYRUP PEPIN

Constipation, biliousness and like annoying ills will quickly disappear

A MOTHER is always anxious to give the safest and best medicine to a constipated baby, but is puzzled which to select. Let her decide by the ingredients on the package.

Every bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the formula printed plainly on the outside of the carton under the portrait of Dr. Caldwell, who wrote the prescription in 1892. You will find that it is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It will not gripe the baby, and it is free from narcotics. A bottle sufficient to last a family several months can be had at any drug store, and the cost is only about a cent a dose.

While no one, young or old, need take a drastic purgative like calomel or calomel, be especially careful what you give a child. Some contain mineral salts and other drugs that might prove dangerous by overstimulating the system or poisoning the heart. The ingredients of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are recommended by the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free

For every constipated baby, send for a Half-Ounce Bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. FREE OF CHARGE. Write for it. A home or family where Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is used, is a healthy home. Write for it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, 100 West 12th St., New York, N. Y.

C. F. TERRILL

LONG TOM CHENAULT, Auctioneer.

Richmond.

My answer to your puzzle is this: The puzzle is those driving around from store to store—Uncle Henry, Virginia and Paul They are advertising Richmond A single I am, that is Uncle Henry; he was no twin only in business—triplets means all three—H. P. Barclay.

I believe the answer to the puzzle, which was in the paper of Saturday, Feb. 25, is the word ONE.

Paul and Virginia are ONE by word made, Uncle Henry is SINGLE and eager to add, While they're ONE and SINGLE yet they're three, And they're as happy as happy can be.

The puzzle is plain as plain can be, For in are letters, 1, 2, 3, O is a; N is a; E is a. Not a double, but a triplet, you see. You must not judge a thing by its size, For the smallest number may win the prize. —DOLLY PICKELS.

The first letter "A" is my guess on the puzzle. In hopes, Connie Whitaker, Kirkville.

You will herewith find enclosed my solution to puzzle in the Daily Register—Hazel Carson.

A. Our first letter is made of three lines, And in this no more one ever finds, You may never repeatedly and put back together, But with all this you will never find it better, Study carefully this letter and hear this in mind—The same three strokes will remain throughout time.

I believe the word "Advertise" meets the requirements of "Single, Twin, and Triplet." I will attach a few interrogatory "musts" with answer:

1. What must the business men of this town do to let the future Uncle Henry's know where to take their kith and kin to buy their numerous household supplies, as well as their house?—Advertise.
2. What is the first step that a good business man must take to get his wares before the public?—Advertise.
3. What must you do if your business is known outside your home town?—Advertise.
4. What must you do to recover that pocketbook, horse, dog, cow, or anything else that was lost?—Advertise.
5. What must the farmer, merchant, butcher, baker, and candle stick maker do to get that surplus stock off of his hands and money in his tills.—Advertise.

6. And, finally, you must have that "Magnificent Gift." A bustling wide awake daily newspaper like the Richmond Daily Register, in which to Advertise.

Another puzzle connected with this story is "Why should any one go or send out of Richmond for anything they need or want is here?" It is because the outsider has learned the secret of success better than we and Advertiser.—W. L. Howe, Richmond.

The following is the solution to the puzzle in "A Magnificent Gift."

I am
"A single I am, a twin I am never."
(The Bible says there is but one God and never says he is a twin.)

"A triplet I am, though my parts you can sever."
(The God-head consists of three, which can be divided into the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.) "Search well for me here, but bear this in mind."

In the first two lines we find "I am," God called himself "I am in the Bible." "The more you discover, the less you will find."
(I am, in reference to man, is not much to find.—Miss Ida Cornelison, Lybee, Ky.)

The White's Station Community meeting last Friday night was a success. A splendid program was rendered with much interest. Judge Goodloe served as chairman. White's Station will have another meeting Mar. 27. The following paper was read at the Community meeting. It will give you an idea—read it: Ramblin' Thoughts of

An Idle Fellow

I read a piece of paper the other day at the postoffice telling about this here Community meeting tonight. I sez I was goin' to be there. Then some one up and told me that Bob Potts was agoin' to talk on Wheat and Harry Morgan on Chickens or Tobacco raising. Shucks! Who wants to go and listen to them fellers, anyhow? We can hear them any day when the Loafer's Club meets about mail time and even then no one pays them no mind when the champion checker players has got games agoin'.

Say, you folks listen. A feller came to my home the other day and tried to sell me an electric light plant and water works system for the women folks' benefit.

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."—Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

HALF A CENTURY

Oklahoman Praises Black-Draught, Having Used It "Can Safely Say for 50 Years."

Grandfield, Okla.—One of the best known farmers of Tillman County, Mr. G. W. Tisdale, who owns and manages a wagon yard here, says:

"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught—I believe I can safely say for fifty years."

"I was born and reared in Texas, Freestone County, sixty-four years ago. I have been married forty-four years. My father used Black-Draught before I was married, and gave it to us."

"For forty-four years of my married life, it has had a place on our medicine shelf, and is the only laxative, or liver medicine, we use. We use it for torpid liver, sour stomach, headache, indigestion... I don't think we could get along without it, knowing what it has done for us, and the money it has saved. It is just as good and reliable today as it was when we began its use. My boys use it and they are satisfied it's the best liver medicine they have ever used."

Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, not disagreeable, is taken and acts in a prompt and natural way. So many thousands of persons have been benefited by the use of Theodor's Black-Draught, you should have no hesitancy in trying this valuable old well-established remedy, for most liver and stomach disorders. ent, but you bet I didn't give him no order. We still got a cistern about 20 feet from the house and coal oil lamps. Of course the women folks wanted me to spend money on all this foolishness, as the agent was a slick talker, and they ain't hardly spoke to me since I turned him down.

Just as this feller was gettin' ready to leave he asked me if I had studied grammar at school and I told him "Yes, I was the champion grammar scholar." Then sez he "Which is right, 7 and 5 is 11, or 7 and 5 are 11?" Well I soon told him that 7 and 5 is 11 was correct according to my notion. Then he up and sez "Well when I went to school 7 and 5 made 12." Shucks, now that wasn't no grammar, but plain figuring, and why didn't he say so?

Then sez he "I reckon you are a good Bible scholar," and I sez "Yes, from Genesis to Revelation." "All right, then," sez he, "tell me why did Moses take mustard into the ark?" Well I studied and studied and just couldn't remember anything about mustard and the ark and had to tell the feller so. Then after he cranked up his Ford car and got in he sez: "Twasn't Moses that went into the ark, it was Noah." The women folks was all alistenin' and they laughed and laughed, but I couldn't see nothin' to laugh at, cause he said Moses his self.

Well, I hope that there Bob Spence and Prof. Dix feller shows up at this here community meeting. Them fellers sure got some sense and I hope they can make these here women folks see it ain't right to be spending money on such foolishness as water works and electric lights. Shucks, these is hard times!

GRANDMOTHER IS IN COLLEGE

Aged Woman, Matriculates, and Has Had Thirst for Education for Years.

Liberty, Mo.—Mrs. Mary A. Church, a grandmother, has entered William Jewell college in Liberty after the flame of desire for a college education had burned with unflinching determination for more than 35 years.

Mrs. Church, who has five grown children, matriculated with her two sons, G. A. Church, eighteen years old, and James M. Church, nineteen. A grandchild, George W. Billings, six years old, attends school at Neosho, Wis.

Finishing high school in Detroit, Mich., in 1885, Mrs. Church, then a girl of her teens, longed for further education. Continuous illness in her family made it compulsory for the girl to help support her family following her graduation.

But it was not long before more important responsibilities claimed her time, the girl marrying Dr. Frank Church, a young Baptist minister. When the children came the young mother was too busy caring for them to be active in her efforts to obtain the college education.

The mother and her two sons entered college here as freshmen this year.

MEMBER WAY BACK WHEN?

A hitherto unpublished photograph of—let's see; oh, yes—John Curtis, twenty-four years of age, secretary of the famous old Philadelphia United States fire company. Dress suits, gayly decorated top hats, trick ponchos and brightly illuminated and decorative jellies were part of the firm's personal equipment. That was even before the real a fireman was recognized by his red suspenders and undershirt. This photo was made about 1880.

BEARS STILL ROAM NEW YORK

Shooting of Bruin Shown in Official Report of State Conservation Commission.

Albany.—The report of the conservation commission for 1919, published here, shows that one bear was shot in that season. A New York county hunter brought him down. In 1918 no bears were shot.

A total of 15,998 ducks, an increase of 5,232, were brought down, while hunters bagged 3,364 rabbits, an increase of more than 1,000. Jacksnipes killed numbered 719, an increase of 120, while the skunk bag for the state was 52, an increase of 33.

Only 27 foxes were killed, a decrease of 161. Two others were caught, an increase of two over the preceding year. In all 6,610 licenses were granted, 2,000 more than in 1918, which explained the increased bags.

$25$25*'OLD KENTUCKY HOME' MIX-UP

Presentation of Tablet Causes Debate About "the" or "My" in Stephen Foster's Song.

Pittsburgh.—When Stephen G. Foster sang the glories of "My Old Kentucky Home" in 1858 did he write the first line, "The sun shines bright in my old Kentucky home," or did he write "The sun shines bright in the old Kentucky home?"

This question is engaging the attention of historical authorities in Pittsburgh because a handsome bronze tablet which the city is about to present to Bardonia, Ky., where the song was written, designates in the first line that it is "My old Kentucky home."

The reference department of Carnegie library insists that the author wrote in the first line that the sun shone bright in "The old Kentucky home." As the tablet has been cast and is on exhibition here, it is probable it will be sent to Bardonia without change.

Museum Curator Denounces Crooked Officials in Mesopotamia Where Thieves Laid Low.

Philadelphia.—The systems of city government during the Sumerian civilization in Mesopotamia 5,000 years ago were probably not much different from the present, and better, if anything, declared Dr. Leon Legrain, curator of the University of Pennsylvania museum, "chastening contractors and crooked officials were tried briefly and thrown into the river."

An elaborate banking system with a reserve bank comparable to our own today, a postal system with a parcel post branch, and circulating libraries which distributed books in the form of clay tablets were features of that day, Dr. Legrain declared.

U.S. EXPERTS GET SMALL SALARIES

Director Jones Tells of Hardships of an Employee of the Geodetic Survey.

TELLS OF ACTUAL CONDITIONS

One Technical Man Forced to Get Supper Every Night for Self and Children While Wife Works to Meet Expenses.

Washington.—One of the technical men of the coast and geodetic survey has been compelled on account of low salaries, to prepare his and his children's supper each night while his wife works in order to meet the needs of the family, and prepare his and the children's breakfast and put up his own lunch, while his wife rises for the night's work again.

This instance is sighted by Col. E. Lester Jones, director of the survey, in his annual report to the secretary of commerce, made public recently, as pointing to the crying need of reclassification of salaries in the government service, and especially in his bureau, says the Washington Star.

Calls Salaries "Deplorable."

"Isn't it deplorable, and would it be tolerated anywhere outside of the government?" asks the director. "There are many more such cases. How long must this go on?"

Expressing the belief that both the government and the employees would be gainers from the early adoption of higher salaries, Colonel Jones says:

"Under such conditions neither the government nor the outside employer can have the services of a vigorous, wide-awake, self-reliant worker, but must put up with a man whose energy has been partly spent, and a continuance of this practice for a certain period results invariably in the run-down, over-worked, nervous and irritable or dejected employee. It would be far more profitable for the government to pay a higher salary and obtain the best efforts of the employees for a more productive day."

"I cannot emphasize too strongly that unless this fundamental trouble is soon corrected a disintegration of the service will continue, with disastrous results of which the government and the public will feel the effect for years to come. The question is, will the pledge given some years ago, continually repeated and as often postponed with the usual excuses, be kept now with the men who are the backbone of our federal institutions or will the unredeemed promises continue to prevail?"

Actual Conditions Related.
"I have given you the above facts frankly, without obscuring the actual conditions, just as a manager would submit them to the head of a large business concern."

"In this bureau we are endeavoring to give the public a salable article, but with these handicaps the output is produced under unnecessary difficulties which mean delay and waste."

The director of the bureau cites the need for a new building to house the Washington office and chart printing plant of the bureau. Quoting from the report:

"The bureau is operating in eight buildings, five larger and three smaller, all but two more or less detached and connected as far as is feasible by communicating bridges. Two of the main buildings were designed and built for dwellings and one of them was used for that purpose. One of the smaller buildings was built for and used as a stable, and another two of the main buildings were designed and constructed for use as a hotel and were rented to the government for the use of this bureau from 1871 to 1891, when they were sold to the government to house part of this bureau."

"As its work centers largely in the construction and production of nautical charts and it is therefore a manufacturing bureau, the bureau operates under a signal handicap in buildings so little suited to its needs. It is a matter of economy to provide a respectable building for this service—it is waste to continue under existing conditions."

The director also points out the need of more extended current observations, to the lack of which is attributed the loss of many vessels and lives.

Advertising

"It pays to advertise" was again proven to another Richmond merchant Monday morning. The W. F. Higgins furniture store announced in a display advertisement in the Daily Register last Friday a big sale on aluminumware to begin Monday morning at 9 o'clock. There were three large tables stacked with aluminumware, selling at 9c, 39c and 79c. Long before the hour for the sale the store was jammed with ladies ready and waiting to buy up the biggest pieces. Exactly one hour after the sale started every piece of the ware was sold. Mr. Murphy, the bustling manager, says he is convinced that truthful advertising pays.

An Old Fashioned Remedy

The Adair County News gives an old fashioned remedy as a cure for pneumonia. It says: Take six to ten onions according to size, and chop fine, put in a large spider over a hot fire; then add about the same quantity of rye meal, and vinegar enough to form a thick paste. In the meantime stir it thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes. Then put it in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs, and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. When this gets cool apply another and thus continue by reheating poultices, and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger. This simple remedy has never failed to cure this often fatal malady. Usually three or four applications will be sufficient, but continue always until the perspiration starts freely from the chest.

Personality depends on six factors: charm, force, symmetry, sympathy, optimism and modesty.

COASTS OVER 100-FOOT CLIFF

Postmaster Swears Off Short Cuts After He Is Dug Out of 15-Foot Drift.

Pine Brook, N. J.—Postmaster Joseph Liebeskind, of Pine Brook, N. J., took a far shorter short cut than he intended recently and vows that he'll never take another. The last few seconds of his short cut over a mountain were the longest he ever lived through.

He was on his way to visit a relative on the other side of the mountain and decided to climb over it instead of following the road around. He found the summit of the ridge bare of snow, however, and glazed with ice. Moreover, there was a gradually increasing slope toward the 100-foot cliff on the far side.

Down this slope the postmaster coasted with increasing speed until he shot over the edge of the cliff with a velocity which carried him fifteen or twenty feet past the brink. This enabled him to clear a heap of rock debris at the foot of the precipice, and he landed in a fifteen-foot snow drift, which engulfed him completely.

Wilbur Colyer saw the postmaster's spectacular dive and went to the drift with a shovel. After the postmaster had been dug out and examined by a physician he went on to his relative's by the road.

FLOATING OIL HOLDS DUCKS

Wild Ducks Unable to Fly Are Protected by Game Warden in California.

San Rafael, Cal.—Oil floating to shore on the shallow waters north of McNair's point, near the abandoned Chinese shrimp camp, rendered large numbers of wild ducks unable to fly and gave Game Warden W. B. Selmer a busy day protecting the birds from hunting parties.

Some of the ducks were in the water when the oil floated in from the bay, others flew down and alighted in it. Some were virtually smothered when they floated, others were able to wade to shore.

Automobiles driving on the scenic highway near by stopped and attempted to make killings, using stones, sticks and other improvised weapons. The game warden reported he had seen an automobile party trying to run down ducks in their machine.

The "don'ts" given by the noted educator:

"Don't dart into the street."

"Don't ride on the rear of ice wagons or motor vehicles."

"Don't 'cut in' if you ride a bicycle to and from school."

Miss Beard addressed members of the safety course of the Detroit safety council.

Interior Department Plans to Send Exploring Expedition to Arctic Region Next Summer.

Washington.—The department of interior of the Canadian government is making plans for the organization of a scientific expedition into the Arctic region next summer to explore Ellesmere land.

A report received states that nominally Ellesmere land belongs to Canada, but owing to the abundance of game and whale fishing there, Denmark has cast a longing eye upon it and that Americans also have been attracted to the new country.

For these reasons, it is declared, Canada will establish a strong garrison of mounted police to stop all speculation and exploitation and establish Canadian ownership in fact as well as in letter.

CHURCHES GAIN 2,173 EVERY DAY

Federal Council's Statistics Show War Losses Being Steadily Overcome.

45,997,199 CHURCH MEMBERS

Various Religious Bodies Report 233,104 Conversions, Headed by 200,000 Ministers—Total Constituency 95,000,000.

Washington, D. C.—Every day during the last five years an average of 2,173 persons joined the various churches of America. An average of three conversions have been organized daily and the average number joining the ministry has been four and one-half persons a day.

The figures are furnished by Dr. E. O. Watson, Washington, secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The statistics show that the churches are steadily overcoming their war losses. Total church membership of the country is placed at 45,997,199, an increase of 4,070,345 over the 1916 census figures and indicates a gain of more than a million members for the preceding twelve months. The various religious bodies report 233,104 conversions, headed by 200,000 ministers. This is a gain of 5,617 conversions and 8,294 clergy over the government figures for 1916.

While there has been much talk of a shortage of ministers, the increase in clergy has been approximately 50 per cent more than the increase in the congregations. The 33,014 difference between ministers and congregations does not indicate a corresponding shortage of pastors.

Of the persons listed officially as church members, the Roman Catholics have 17,885,646. The Catholic figures represent estimated population, including all baptized persons. Protestant bodies count only communicants.

The 30 bodies related to the Federal Council of Churches have 19,983,115 members. They have a total of 142,472 congregations manned by 113,761 clergy. Their gain in membership over the preceding five years is 1,245,365. Their total constituency is 55,812,722, a gain of 3,448,618 over the 1916 census figures.

Total "Constituency" 95,000,000.

The total religious constituency of the country (including all members and "adherents") is estimated by Dr. Watson at 95,000,000 persons. Owing to different statistical methods of the various churches these figures are estimated in accordance with studies made by statisticians. On this basis the constituency of various bodies is:

Protestant, 74,795,220; Roman Catholic, 17,885,646; Jews, 1,120,000; Latter Day Saints (Mormons), 1,646,170.

The Jewish bodies have different methods of reporting. Volume 22 of the American Jewish Year Book estimates the Jewish population of the United States at 3,300,000.

For the first time the combined Baptists have passed the combined Methodists in total membership, now having 7,835,250 members, against a Methodist membership of 7,797,991. The Lutheran bodies stand third with a membership of 2,468,645 persons and the Presbyterians are fourth with 2,381,683 members.

Largest Protestant Denomination.

The Methodist Episcopal church (North) reports an increase in membership of 220,870 over the 1916 figures and 62,505 members over last year. It is the largest single Protestant communion. The Methodist Episcopal church (South) shows a gain of 91,315 members for the preceding year, its total now being 2,346,067. WHEELS BEGIN TO HUM IN PALESTINE

(By Associated Press)

Jerusalem, Mar. 7.—Palestine is beginning to arouse from its long industrial slumber. Manufacturing industries are springing up rapidly in this country which could not boast a single industry for hundreds of years under the Turkish regime. Now the new industries are beginning to compete strongly with foreign manufacturers.

This change is attributed here to Zionist capital and enterprise. Carpet weaving perhaps ranks first in importance among the new industries. The pro-Jerusalem society has a number of looms which turn out some remarkably beautiful work. Jewish colonists from Persia have also set up a number of factories which make carpet patterns for foreign consumption. The United States is their chief buyer for the present.

The manufacture of house and office furniture is making rapid strides. Two large Zionist factories are now busy producing all the wooden requisites of office and home for Palestine as well as for Egypt.

Cigarette making, pearl button manufacturing, wine producing, candy, brush and basket making are among the many other enterprises which are being developed. Their promoters say they are more than satisfied with results, despite the general depression in trade prevailing the world over.

Two existing handicaps, however, seem to arrest the rapid growth. The first is lack of electricity to run the machinery factories and the second the lack of suitable harbors, piers and sheds to facilitate the handling of the sudden increase in imports and exports.

The Rutenberg scheme for generating electricity from the River Jordan which has already been approved by the government in London and on which work is to start soon is expected to eliminate these handicaps.

The administration is bending its utmost efforts to promote more enterprises. An exhibition of some industries, the first of its kind in Palestine, is being arranged for the first week in April.

MINING FOR OIL NEAR RAVENNA

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., March 6.—"Oil mines" may be as thick as oil wells in many sections of the state if the experiment now in progress at Ravenna, Estill county, proves successful and profitable, according to Dr. Willard R. Jilison, State Geologist of Kentucky. This new method of producing crude oil is outlined in the Sixth Geological Survey just published.

The process as developed and projected probably is new for the entire United States, according to Dr. Jilison, though one company in Ventura county, California, has experimented along this line. Similar methods also have been used in Europe, particularly in Alsace. The Kentucky "mine" has been sunk in close to an old producing well on the Hudson farm within the confines of Ravenna townsite.

The Estill county project consists of the sinking of a shaft 8 by 12 feet to a depth of 130 feet through the Devonian black (Chattanooga) shale to the underlying "sand," the Onondaga (Corniferous) limestone. The production has averaged about two or three barrels a day in spite of the difficulties attendant on sinking the shaft into the "sand." The experiment has progressed satisfactorily according to Dr. Jilison.

"The amount of crude oil production does not, of course, justify the expenditure necessary to sink a shaft of the size indicated, but the present production is regarded as only an incident to the development of this property, which was suspended at this point awaiting the installation of larger machinery. It is further the plan of the operators, D. W. R. Kinney, George W. Eastern and John McMinn, to drift out in to the oil sand a triangular tunnel 6 feet high and 7 feet at the base to a distance of one thousand feet in a north-easterly direction from the main shaft. This prospecting tunnel will drive slightly upwards as it goes forward with the result, which is outlined that oil will be produced into it and find its way by gravity to a sump at the base of the main shaft, where it is proposed to take it out by pumping," according to the report.

It is the plan of the operators to enlarge the base of the shaft into a room 12 feet square and 7 feet high and retort on the ground the oil impregnated limestone or "sand" out from the 1,000-foot tunnel.

The oil "sand" carries, it is claimed, as much as 25 per cent by volume of crude oil. While motor cars in the United States were responsible for 12-60 deaths and property damage of $1,000,000,000 in 1920.

BETTER ADVERTISING FOR BETTER BUSINESS

LIKE anything worth while, advertising requires patience and persistent effort.

Gold Medal Flour wasn't always well known. Neither was the Victrola, Nor Coca Cola. Nor Beaver Board. When you advertise, make up your mind to keep it up. Don't be discouraged if it seems to take time. Don't start and quit.

Give your advertising a chance. The long, steady pull is always more effective than short spurts with rests in between.

Have confidence. That's one of the elements of advertising success.
